STRENGTH FOR TODAY

Lord, help me to live this day
 Quietly – easily
 To lean upon your great strength
 Trustfully –restfully
 To meet others
 Peacefully – joyously
 To face tomorrow
 Confidently - courageously

Retirement and Thankfulness

In his book, "Nearing Home – Life Faith and Finishing Well" Billy Graham writes on this topic:

Let's remember that many generations before us have been where we are today without the conveniences we enjoy.

Those conveniences have given us more time to use on other activities throughout our days. Most of us no longer have to grow our food, carry water every morning, or travel many miles to talk to a friend.

Instead of being frustrated by technologies, let's be thankful for the time they give us to concentrate on His blessings.

Considering all God has given can fill the hours – and it should.

"Finally," Paul told the Philippians,
*"whatever things are true...noble...just...pure...lovely,
 whatever things are of good report ...
 meditate on these things."*

Philippians 4:8.
